Sample posts

- We encourage you to tag candidates and other panelists invited to speak at your event on social media.
- An example of a tweet to share could be, "Let's make food an election issue!", followed by a link to your Facebook event. Feel free to craft an inviting message to potential attendees.
- Post any links that might be related to topics such as food security or other issues that might be discussed during your event.
- You can head over to our website and post a link to our blog post or share the site to spread the word about the campaign.
